IN

Come and meet one of Madeira's cultural icons, the sophisticated Pestana Casino Park, designed by the great master of world architecture Oscar Niemeyer. Very concerned with the hotel's integration in the Funchal Bay area - and the fabulous garden island - he created an amazing space, full of curves and symbolism, which makes your stay in Madeira absolutely unforgettable.

Let your gaze wander to the infinity of the pool line, of the Atlantic and of the Desertas islands. The gardens provide you with shade and privacy, so you can make the most of this area. In the evening, when you come from your walks and adventures around the island or in the morning, to boost your energy, go to the gym with great natural light and all the equipment you need for a complete workout, or go to the huge indoor pool, with its colors with soothing and relaxing effects.

Both outside and inside, discover that there is much to see.

BEDROOMS

The rooms are fantastic, spacious and very sober. The black and beige decor, combined with the symmetrical geometry of the furniture, make the perfect contrast with the constant curved lines of the hotel, the pools and of the holidays. After all, the fact that you have come to work or to rest is no reason why you should have a linear stay. The bags are delivered to you in the room and the welcome service and opening of the beds is very friendly. The architect Oscar Niemeyer created the hotel so the rooms were functional and the public areas were impressive, therefore, even if you stay in a classic with a more intimate space, the monumentality of the living rooms and the restaurant, will balance your perception.

PUBLIC AREAS

With a 221 meter long concave façade, the hotel is a masterpiece of Modern Architecture.

A unique project in Portugal along with the Madeira Casino, by Master Oscar Niemeyer.

MEETING ROOMS

This is the Pestana hotel - and the hotel in Madeira - with better conditions to receive large groups, conventions, congresses, seminars, meetings and social and gala events. It seems megalomaniac, but it is the best way to present reality: with 14 meeting rooms in the building, with different areas of coffee break, break rooms and use of public space.

Also, here is a full floor dedicated to meetings - the "conference room" with two large multipurpose rooms that allow for access and more private use of the spaces.

RESTAURANTES

The amazing and glamorous Panoramic, the private Sunset and the modern Dockside are the options that will set the tone of your holiday and the flavor of your stay at the Pestana Casino Park.

With daily themed buffets, the Panoramic, situated in the garden floor, is decorated with trees that help give an organic touch to a glass and iron architecture, where luminosity is queen. Here there is no place for monotony: while listening to live music, you can taste dishes as diverse as chicken curry or the Madeira meat skewers.

The Sunset is ideal for business lunches and for more intimate weekend dinners, with a menu that balances International and Madeira options in a warm, elegant and intimate environment, yet spacious.

The fantastic Dockside is dedicated to leisure, thanks to its amazing terrace with a sea view. Morning meals are served here, with the best view of the bay, during the Summer; dinners dedicated to certain types of cuisine are also made here: Italian, Japanese or other types, equally informal and attractive.

OUT

The Archipelago of Madeira is composed of the islands of Madeira and Porto Santo, known for the golden sand of their beaches, as well as two uninhabited islands, known as Desertas and Selvagens.

The splendor of its nature and its particular topography, along with the touristic and cultural offer of the Archipelago, make this island deserving of being called the Portuguese oasis in the Atlantic Ocean, where routine disappears. A visit to Madeira Island always works as an excellent therapy, whether it be for practicing adventure sports or for just a few days of relaxation and contemplation.

FUNCHAL

Funchal is regarded as a cosmopolitan and luxurious town, yet accessible to all ages and tastes.

A walk through the Old Town will reveal the picturesque atmosphere and the beauty of the historical centre. Here one will find the animation, as well as the narrow streets and traditional squares, and some of the best restaurants in town. Another must is the Mercado dos Lavradores (Peasants Market). Originally conceived exclusively for selling flowers, it is now the ideal spot for finding the most authentic and appealing regional products.

If you want to become familiar with the Island of Porto Santo, just take the Lobo Marinho ferry boat or, if you prefer to stay on land, then enjoy the charms provided by the relaxed, glamorous atmosphere of the Marina. Likewise full of charm, and serving as an alternative to the bohemian area of Funchal, the Casino of Madeira, one of the island's emblematic buildings, created by the famous Brazilian architect Oscar Niemeyer, makes an ideal option for going out at nighttime.

OUT

A hiker with a backpack stands on a concrete levada path, looking out over a lush green valley. The path is bordered by a low concrete wall. In the background, a steep, rocky mountain rises, partially covered in green vegetation. The sky is clear and blue. The foreground shows some green plants and a small white flower.

EXPLORE THE PEARL OF THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

The Levadas — interior trails crossing the island — are one attraction not to be missed. Some of the more difficult ones are for real adventurers, while others are accessible to everybody. They are the best way to cross the Laurissilva Woods (a UNESCO World Heritage), where communion with Nature is perfect.

Thanks to the island's climate, it is possible to practice nautical, terrestrial and aerial sports during any season of the year. Visitors can also go on excursions on the island: in the northeast, they can get to know Santana and its picturesque houses; in the northwest, you can dive in the natural swimming pools of Porto Moniz. If you want to enjoy the peculiar pebble beaches, in the Western part of Funchal you will find the Fajã dos Padres beach, where the transparent waters will invite you to dive.

On Madeira, the spirit of celebration is sensed throughout the whole year. The festivities attracting the most visitors are the Fireworks during New Years Eve night, Carnival, Flower Festival during spring and the Atlantic Festival in the summer.

SMALL OASES

The depth of the valleys, the views over the Atlantic Ocean, the green landscape and the extraordinary climate serve as a guarantee for a feeling of peace and freedom that will imbue both body and soul.

Outside Funchal, visitors can discover the other riches of the island. Get to know one of the world's highest cliff at Cape Girao. Visit the Curral das Freiras in the island's interior and enjoy the landscape, which is similar to a volcano's crater. Climb to the Pico do Arieiro, from where you can see Porto Santo. If you cross the island's centre and go to São Vicente, stop at one of the island's most beautiful valleys to see the lava caves and visit the Volcanism Centre. In the opposite direction, in the southwest of the island, you will find the Calheta, known for its Arts Centre and its Casa das Mudanças.

Other veritable oases include the Quintas of Madeira (traditional houses), a concept with a particular richness, whether it be thanks to the architecture of the buildings, the refinement of its furniture and decoration, the sublime gardens, or their history.

HISTORY AND CULTURE

Allow yourself to be charmed by the stories of this island, revisiting the seventeenth-century buildings, the churches and the spectacular interior of its Cathedral. Among the most important museums, one should mention: the Madeira Story Center – an interactive museum offering a full view of 14 million years of history –, the Museum of Contemporary Art and, last but not least, the Madeira Wine Company Museum, where you will find everything related to wine elaboration during a visit culminating with a tasting of this marvelous nectar.

The name Madeira comes from the abundant presence of the raw material of wood. Its exotic vegetation allowed the creation of numerous Parks and Gardens, all well-maintained and thanks to which the island won the title European Flower Town 2000. Get to know such beauties as its Botanic Garden or the Monte Palace Tropical Garden. Climb to the Monte area to discover its garden and experience the emotion of descending to the town's centre in a "Carro-de-Cesto" (Basket car). In the western part, you will find Santa Catarina Park, from where it is possible to enjoy the colorful amphitheatre over the Ocean, and the city of Funchal.

TO EAT

It is said that what Nature gives defines the gastronomy of a region. Madeira is no exception to this. The existence of the Laurissilva is reflected in its typical meat on a laurel spit, present in a rather eclectic choice of dishes that is only complete when accompanied by a unique, locally produced wine, and followed by one of the innumerable pastries and locally-grown exotic fruits.

TO EAT

To experience the gastronomy of Madeira is to have the privilege of tasting the specialties of an island with a large variety of high quality products. Given its strong touristic vocation and its excellent offer of 4- and 5-star Hotels, it has been possible to create a very interesting gastronomic offer, ranging from the luxurious and refined to the more rural and authentic.

Seafood, fish and codfish are present in several dishes in Madeira. A starter of grilled limpets with garlic and lemon juice is very common, for preparing the palate for a generous tuna fillet with potatoes as the main dish. The swordfish or black scabbard fish fillets served with bananas, or skipjack fillet, the smoked swordfish and the octopus are other irresistible options the guest will find at both the table of premium restaurants and in the most typical small-town taverns.

The Bolo do Caco, a legacy of the influence of the Canary Islands, is a must in any meal. It is a wheat bread cooked on hot stones that is served with garlic butter. Soup lovers will be delighted by the Tomato and Onion Soup and the Wheat Soup, served with a poached egg; they are ideal for comforting hikers during their rests. Regarding meat, the fried Vinha d'Alhos meat and the Picado are the very common. However, the most common is the Grilled Beef on a Laurel Spit.

The accompaniments are what most differ from traditional Portuguese cuisine. Instead of the common rice and potatoes, the inhabitants of Madeira prepare fried maize cubes and sweet potato rings while the island's legumes replace the salads.

Tropical fruits and cane honey are the basis for desserts and the most typical drinks. Among these, the Maracujá pudding, the honey pie and drinks such as Punch, Nikita and Pé-de-Cabra (Goat's Foot) stand out.
