True Waldorf Service

The True Waldorf Service concept is an extension of the personal service principles that were first introduced at the legendary Waldorf=Astoria property in New York. Under this service initiative, a personal concierge is assigned to each qualified guest and acts as their primary contact, before, during and - an industry first - after a stay, to guarantee every requirement and request is met. Exclusively available to those guests booking direct with the hotel, the personal concierge covers all guest needs from greeting on arrival to assisting with personal culinary preferences, arranging transportation and arranging any special occasion details. This ultimate service accommodates the widest range of guest needs and delivers the promise of the True Waldorf Service. The initiative is an exceptional, highly-customized luxury experience.

"In order to create a truly innovative and industry-leading service delivery platform, we took great care to identify and train the right employees within the Waldorf Astoria family to develop our network of personal concierges," said John Vanderslice, global head of luxury and lifestyle brands, Hilton Worldwide. "We've invested more than 150,000 hours of training to make sure this service is worthy of our namesake."

Legendary Service

To deliver a truly bespoke experience, True Waldorf Service takes a three-pronged approach:

True Waldorf Service Welcome – Before they even arrive, guests receive a personalized email connecting them to their personal concierge and offering the opportunity to pre-arrange services and special requests attuned to their history and personal preferences and in relation to the destination. The personal concierge then welcomes the guest upon arrival.

True Waldorf Service Experience – Once onsite, the personal concierge ensures guests receive a true VIP experience, starting with a private escort to guest rooms, bypassing the standard check-in process. While the personal concierge serves as the guest's primary point contact, he or she is also their personal resource for hotel and resort information and for coordinating with the full staff to deliver seamless, personalized luxury. Outside of this, guests have 24-hour access to designated representatives with local expertise and an informed understanding of their needs.

True Waldorf Service Invitation to Return – An industry first, the Invitation to Return enhances the guest's stay and takes the hassle out of departure travel by offering additional services such as packing services, boxed lunches, home luggage delivery, transportation arrangements and expedited checkout, all arranged through the personal concierge. Guests will receive a small departure gift reflective of the local property or culture and a follow-up thank you note after the trip concludes.
